Standard deviation of return measures the average deviations of a return series from its mean. StyleADVISOR calculates standard deviation as the square root of the squared differences of each monthly return from the mean monthly return over the specified period. Beta is a measure of systematic risk, or the sensitivity of ETNMX to movements in the S&P 500 Index (Index). StyleADVISOR defines Beta as the covariance of ETNMX and Index divided by the variance of the Index.

Alpha is the mean of the excess return of ETNMX over beta times the Index. The R-Squared (R2) of ETNMX versus the Index is a measure of how closely related the variance of ETNMX returns and the variance of the Index returns are. StyleADVISOR calculates R2 by squaring the correlation of monthly returns between ETNMX and the Index over the specified period.

‡‡ Since inception market risk details assume inception date of 1 August 2015 and not Class N's actual inception date of 15 July 2015, as only full month data is included in the market risk calculations.

Mutual Funds involve risk including the possible loss of principal.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. The Fund's ethical values screening criteria could cause it to under-perform similar funds that do not have such screening criteria. The Fund can have risk related to option investing. There are special risks associated with investments in foreign companies including exposure to currency fluctuations, less efficient trading markets, political instability and differing auditing and legal standards. Investors in the Eventide Multi-Asset Income Fund should be aware that interest rates are at historic lows and may change at any time based on government policy. In general, the price of a fixed income security falls when interest rates rise. A rise in interest rates may result in volatility and increased redemptions, which in turn could result in the fund being forced to liquidate portfolio securities at disadvantageous prices. Longer term securities may be more sensitive to changes in interest rates. The intermediate-term bond portion of the Fund's portfolio may represent 0% to 100% of the Fund's portfolio with an average duration of between two and eight years. The Fund may invest in other funds. If other funds are utilized, such underlying funds are subject to investment advisory and other expenses, which will be indirectly paid by the Fund. As a result, your cost of investing in the Fund will be higher than the cost of investing directly in underlying funds and may be higher than other mutual funds that do not invest in underlying funds. The Fund may invest, directly or indirectly, in "junk bonds." Such securities are speculative investments that carry greater risks than higher quality debt securities. There are unique risks associated with REITs, MLPs, preferred stocks, convertible bonds, BDCs, and yieldcos that are covered in the Fund's prospectus and SAL. The Fund is a new mutual fund and has a limited history of operations for investors to evaluate. Because of ongoing market volatility, Fund performance may be subject to substantial short-term changes.
